REPORT

On the subject of the proposed amendment to the constitution of the American Medical Association, adopted at the annual meeting held at the Hotel Hamilton, Chicago, Ill., May 1, 1914.

The following is a summary of the report of the committee on the proposed amendment to the constitution of the American Medical Association, adopted at the annual meeting held at the Hotel Hamilton, Chicago, Ill., May 1, 1914.

The committee has the honor to report that it has carefully considered the proposed amendment to the constitution of the American Medical Association, and has concluded that it is in the best interests of the Association to adopt the same.

The proposed amendment is designed to strengthen the Association's financial position and to provide for the better management of its affairs. It is believed that the adoption of this amendment will result in a more efficient and economical organization.

The committee further reports that it has received many suggestions from the members of the Association regarding the proposed amendment. These suggestions have been carefully considered, and it is believed that the proposed amendment is in line with the wishes of the majority of the members.

The committee believes that the proposed amendment is a necessary and desirable one, and it recommends that it be adopted by the Association. It is believed that the adoption of this amendment will result in a more efficient and economical organization.

RESEARCH REPORT

The first part of the report deals with the general situation of the country and the results of the survey. The second part deals with the results of the survey and the third part deals with the conclusions and recommendations.

CONCLUSIONS

The results of the survey show that the country is in a state of economic depression. The main causes of this are the lack of capital, the low level of technology, and the inefficient management of the country's resources.

RECOMMENDATIONS

It is recommended that the government should take steps to improve the country's economic situation. This should be done by increasing the level of capital, improving the technology, and improving the management of the country's resources.

The author wishes to thank the following persons for their assistance in the preparation of this report: Mr. A. B. C., Mr. D. E. F., and Mr. G. H. I.

Prepared by: J. K. L.

This report was prepared for the Ministry of Finance and the Ministry of Commerce. It is intended to provide information on the economic situation of the country and to recommend measures to improve it. The report is based on the results of a survey conducted in 1955.

Vol. 10, Part 1, 1980

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of human evolution in the context of the broader field of anthropology. It highlights the need for a multidisciplinary approach, drawing on insights from genetics, archaeology, and linguistics. The author argues that a comprehensive understanding of human evolution requires the integration of these diverse fields of research.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, the author emphasizes the significance of the findings presented in this paper. The study has provided valuable insights into the evolutionary processes that have shaped modern human populations. The author calls for further research to explore the complex interactions between genetic, environmental, and cultural factors in human evolution.

- vi. Joseph* married 1806 Mary Doudney; died 1816: Issue,
William*, Mary and Charles. William married one Harris and died. Issue Mary
- vii. John*.
- viii. Daniel*.
- ix. William*.

John Smith and Mary Ireland, his wife, left six children him surviving. I have been unable to find any trace of any issue of Sarah Bowen, formerly Smith, daughter of said John Smith.

All his descendants marked * I have no trace of any issue and if there are any such heirs living, they must prove their identity as such heirs, (as I have it not in my power to do so for them), and forward the legal proof to me, within three months from date.
Or in twelve months they will be forever^{de} barred from any benefit whatever from any estate that will or has fallen to the heirs of said John Smith from his brother Edward, or his next of kin.

Dated March 25, 1859.

DAVID SEAMAN,

One of the heirs, and Administrator.

REMARKS.

To the Heirs of John Smith, deceased, who married Mary Ireland, 1733.

It appears that 40,157 $\frac{1}{2}$ 9s. and 3d. of the Smith Estate was accumulated by Edward, the brother of John, all of which was held by the said Edward. When Edward died he left his estate as follows: One half to his niece Sarah Hyatt, the remainder to his next of kin, whoever they may be. His brother John never called for his portion of the estate. Therefore, in 1790, Sarah Hyatt came in possession of the entire estate and held it until her decease in 1826 when the Crown of England by George Maul, her attorney, administered to the estate and has ever since held all the same in trust.

No claim was made to this estate until 1847; when George W. Collett made claim and in 1852 some parties in Philadelphia made claim to some portion of the same.

Some persons suppose that the Laws of England gives the real estate to the oldest male heir. This is not so unless the estate has been entailed by some former law. When persons die intestate their real and personal estate is equally divided among the surviving heirs over the age of 21 years.

The reader will bear in mind, that I came home from England in September last, to procure certain documents for the solicitors employed in this case, (which were required to be made in person) and send the same to England as soon as convenient. My expectation was, to follow soon after sending these documents; but in a short time I received a letter from the solicitors requesting me not to leave America until called for; to the end that should any further records be needed for this claim they would need my assistance in procuring it. For this reason I am detained in this country.

Many persons think, if they bear the name of some person who has died in England they can proceed at once to that country and obtain the estate. But in 19 cases out of 20, when persons prepare their descent, it will not agree with the records in England; consequently all will have to be gotten up anew. John A. Boyle had $600 for one trip to England and he stated that this sum did not pay him as he had mixed three John Smith families together and made them one. In the same parish where he obtained his records there were registered 29 John Smith's between 1673 and 1683, nine of whom had a son John born. About 1680 there were three Owen families recorded having each a girl named Catharine. Between 1680 and 1709 there were three John Smith's in London that had wives named Catharine with each a child, born in that metropolis.

It is a difficult matter to please every person and I can only say every man should do the best he can. The Aspden Estate I have been told cost $20,000 to collect in twenty years; while I have made trips to England at less than $800 cost to the heirs. Jennens Estate has in less than two years cost some $1300.

When a person goes to England on business he can make some searches for $25 but full particulars will cost $100; in some cases it will cost $1,000 to get the case ready for collection. No searches for wills, etc., can be made unless paid for in advance. I have the names of three hundred Smiths called for. Our Smith Estate was advertised as follows: 1826, 1837, June 1847, December 1848, March 1849, June 1849, April, 1852. England is thronged with claimants from America and many estates have been settled in their favor. I therefore confidently hope that ours also will be settled soon after my arrival in England.

March 25, 1859.
